

JSPS-AAAS Symposium on Science and Nuclear Disarmament was Held in Washington, DC

On 8 November, the JSPS Washington Office and the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) cosponsored a symposium titled "Science and Nuclear Disarmament: Progress and Challenges."

Kicking off the symposium with a keynote speech was Ms. Rose Gottemoeller, Assistant Secretary of State for Arms Control, Verification and Compliance and chief negotiator for the New START Treaty. The following sessions featured lectures on "Nuclear Disarmament" by a wide range of experts, including American and Japanese physicists, former diplomats, a Nobel laureate in economics, and a Japanese professor, Dr. Soho Machida, Hiroshima University, who offered a view from Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The event wound up with a panel discussion that enjoyed the active participation of the symposium attendants.

In the closing session, Ms. Helga Tabuchi, deputy director of JSPS's International Program Department, offered a congratulatory message to Dr. Norman Neureiter, senior adviser, AAAS Center for Science Diplomacy and former S&T Adviser to the US Secretary of State, who was awarded the Japanese government's Order of the Rising Sun, Gold and Silver Star in 2010.

Following the symposium, a reception was held at the same venue, giving the lecturers and participants an opportunity to continue their spirited exchange of views, drawing the curtain on a very meaningful event.

2010年11月8日、日本学術振興会（JSPS）ワシントン研究連絡センターは全米科学振興協会（AAAS）との共催によるシンポジウム「Science and Nuclear Disarmament –Progress and Challenges-」を開催した。

シンポジウムでは米国国務省軍備規制、査察及びコンプライアンス局の次官補 Gottemoeller 氏の基調講演に始まり、各セッションでは、日米の物理学者、外交官経験者、ノーベル経済学賞受賞の経済学者、及び広島大学教授の僧・比較宗教学者といった多彩な顔ぶれによる様々な視点からの Nuclear Disarmament に関する講演と、パネル形式による活発な議論が聴講者も参加して展開された。

また、シンポジウム閉会時に米 AAAS 側オーガナーザーで元米国国務省科学補佐官の Norman Neureiter 氏の平成 22 年度旭日重光章の受章に対して、JSPS 東京本部の田淵エルガ国際事業部参事より祝意が表された。

シンポジウム終了後は同会場でレセプションを開催し、引き続き講演者と観衆を交えた議論が行われ盛況であった。
